Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Saturday 19 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Some rain overnight, becoming patchier into Sunday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Cloud will build through the evening, with rain, heavy at times, becoming widespread across the region; this may become thundery for a time, especially for easternmost areas. Rain will ease and become patchier through the early hours. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Sunday:
Cloudy, murky and damp in the morning, but some brightness developing. This in turn may trigger some sharp showers, especially for northern counties. Overnight, further widespread heavy rain arrives. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Cloudy, wet and breezy on Monday, with some heavy rain likely at times. Drier on Tuesday, although showers still possible for some. Staying dry and sunnier Wednesday.
